Newspapers on microfilm

The Manitoba Legislative Library has the largest collection of original and microfilmed Manitoba newspapers in the world, available for use by Manitoba Government employees, researchers, educators, and students interested in the history of the province. Our newspaper collection includes rare and last copies of Winnipeg and rural Manitoba titles dating to the 19th century, as well as current issues of Winnipeg and rural Manitoba newspapers. Microfilming of Manitoba newspapers allows printed copies of newspapers to be preserved in their original state, while still providing full access to the newspaper collection to all library users.

Delivering on digital : the innovators and technologies that are transforming government

/ William D. Eggers.

New York : Deloitte University Press, 2016. vi, 289 pages.

From the publisher:

How can governments upgrade to the digital age? Delivering on Digital is a guide to making this promise a reality.

When HealthCare.gov went live in October 2013, many called the website a catastrophe. For the U.S. Federal government, however, the problem-plagued launch ultimately proved pivotal: it underscored the necessity of digital excellence in public institutions and inspired hundreds of the tech industry's best and brightest to come to Washington with the singular mission to modernize government.

[...] So how do you take a government built on agrarian- and industrial-era frameworks and redesign it as a fully digital state? We must imagine a new kind of government.

[...] We now have the digital tools (cloud computing, mobile devices, analytics) and the talent to stage a real transformation. This book provides the handbook to make it happen. William Eggers, author of eight books and a leading authority on government reform, knows how we can use tech-savvy teams, strong leadership, and innovative practices to reduce the risks and truly achieve a digitally transformed government.

Hunting the northern character / Tony Penikett. Vancouver : Purich, 2017. 336 pages.

From the publisher:

World leaders often invoke "the northern character," but what do they mean, exactly? Stereotypes abound, from Duddly Do-Right to Northern Exposure, but these southern perspectives fail to capture northern realities. During decades of service as a legislator, mediator, and negotiator, Tony Penikett witnessed a new northern consciousness grow out of the challenges of the Cold War, climate change, land rights struggles, and the boom and bust of resource megaprojects. His lively account of clashes and accommodations between Indigenous and non-Indigenous leaders not only retraces the footsteps of his hunt for a northern identity but tells the story of an Arctic that the world does not yet know.

Everyday heroes : inspirational stories from men and women in the Canadian Armed Forces / edited by Jody Mitic.

Toronto : Simon & Schuster, 2017. ix, 305 pages.

From the publisher:

In this moving collection of first-person accounts, the men and women of the Canadian Armed Forces take us inside life in the military and share their personal stories of courage, perseverance, and sacrifice.

[...] Meet the World War II bomb aimer whose plane engines failed over Hamburg during a raid, the naval signalman who patrolled heavily bombarded waters in Southeast Asia during the Korean War, and the unarmed peacekeeper who found himself standing on a road riddled with mines in Rwanda. From the young recruit who marched over thirty kilometres on what turned out to be a broken leg to prove her mettle, to the three brothers in arms who endured a summer of relentless fighting in Afghanistan, this collection captures the pain and sacrifice, the risks and rewards of standing on guard for Canada.

Featuring stories of courageous rescues, bravery in the face of conflict, and camaraderie at home and overseas, Everyday Heroes is an authentic and stirring look inside the hearts and minds of the men and women in the Canadian Armed Forces. These stories will make you proud to be a Canadian.

Blockchain revolution : how the technology behind Bitcoin is changing money, business, and the world / Don Tapscott and Alex Tapscott.

Toronto : Portfolio/Penguin, 2016. xx, 348 pages.

From the publisher:

The technology likely to have the greatest impact on the future of the world economy has arrived, and it's not self-driving cars, solar energy, or artificial intelligence.

It's called the blockchain. [...]

Blockchain is the ingeniously simple, revolutionary protocol that allows transactions to be simultaneously anonymous and secure by maintaining a tamperproof public ledger of value. Though it's the technology that drives bitcoin and other digital currencies, the underlying framework has the potential to go far beyond these and record virtually everything of value to humankind, from birth and death certificates to insurance claims and even votes. [...]

This technology is public, encrypted, and readily available for anyone to use. It's already seeing wide-spread adoption in a number of areas. [...] As with major paradigm shifts that preceded it, the blockchain will create winners and losers. And while opportunities abound, the risks of disruption and dislocation must not be ignored.

Don Tapscott, the bestselling author of Wikinomics, and his son, blockchain expert Alex Tapscott, bring us a brilliantly researched, highly readable, and utterly foundational book about the future of the modern economy. Blockchain Revolution is the business leaders' playbook for the next decade and beyond.

Roads to confederation : the making of Canada, 1867 / edited by Jacqueline D. Krikorian, David R. Cameron, Marcel Martel, Andrew W. McDougall, and Robert C. Vipond ; with a foreword by Meric S. Gertler, Rhonda L. Lenton, and Mamdouh Shoukri. Toronto : University of Toronto Press, 2017. 2 volumes.

From the publisher:

In recognition of Canada's sesquicentennial, this two-volume set brings together previously published scholarship on Confederation into one collection. The editors sought to reproduce not only the "classic" studies about the people, ideas, and events associated with the passage of the British North America Act, 1867, but also scholarly works that capture the complexities of the Confederation project. This ambitious anthology challenges the notion that there exists one dominant narrative underpinning 1867, and includes research that focuses on Indigenous peoples. Seven articles written in French are translated for the first time for publication in this collection.
