Study our successes.

Since 1905 the University of Manitoba has produced 86 Rhodes Scholars – more than any other university in western Canada. As well, students at the I.H. Asper School of Business have won top honours in more than 20 business competitions in Canada and the United States since 1997 and our law students have won the Sopinka Cup, the national prize for moot court competition, twice since the competition was established six years ago. All of this demonstrates that the University of Manitoba consistently succeeds in attracting the very best students – and then helps them achieve even greater success.
