“Access to Energy for the World: Green Solutions to Global Challenges”

ANNUAL ENERGY SECTOR MISSION

to the World Bank Group, Inter-American Development Bank & Asian Development Bank

Including a program with United States government energy authorities

Washington, D.C., October 31 – November 4, 2010

The Private Sector Liaison Officers (PSLO) Network invites you to mark your calendars for an annual joint mission focusing on the energy sector opportunities at the International Financial Institutions specifically designed to provide an opportunity for the private sector to:

- initiate a dialogue with the WB, IDB and ADB officers responsible for energy sector projects;
- understand the project requirements and constraints; and their level of competitiveness in accessing bank projects and bank-financed projects and programs in the energy sector.
- inform staff of the capabilities and interests of international firms in the energy sector.

This mission is designed for:

- ❖ Consulting firms, individual consultants, training institutions and universities
- ❖ Equipment manufacturers/suppliers
- ❖ Prospective sponsors of private sector projects

Please plan on joining us if you wish to:

- learn what types of projects the World Bank, IDB, & ADB are financing in the renewable energy and energy efficiency sectors;
- identify specific opportunities to market your company's products and services;
- discover how projects are initiated and developed;
- find out how your firm can stay in the loop for future projects.

The optional program will include meetings with United States government and industry representatives highlighting opportunities and market trends in the energy sector useful for companies interested in business opportunities in the US.

Program details and an agenda will be available soon. Please contact the organizers listed below for more information or if you wish to provide input for the program.
