STRUCTURE OF THE OCCUPATIONAL STANDARD

To facilitate the understanding of the occupation, the work performed by tradespersons is divided into the following categories:

Major Work Activity	the largest division within the occupational standard that is comprised of a distinct set of trade activities
Tasks	distinct actions that describe the activities within a major work activity
Sub-tasks	distinct actions that describe the activities within a task
Key Competencies	activities that a person should be able to do in order to be called 'competent' in the trade

The occupational standard also provides the following information:

Trends	changes identified that impact or will impact the trade including work practices, technological advances, and new materials and equipment
Context	information to clarify the intent and meaning of tasks
Required Knowledge	the elements of knowledge that an individual must acquire to adequately perform a task

The appendices located at the end of the occupational standard are described as follows:

Appendix A – Implements	a non-exhaustive list of implements and equipment used in this trade
Appendix B – Glossary	definitions or explanations of selected technical terms used in the occupational standard
Appendix C – Acronyms	a list of acronyms used in the standard with their full name
Appendix D – Major Work Activity and Task Weighting	the major work activity and task percentages which determine the number of questions for each major work activity and task in the provincial certification exam
Appendix E – Pie Chart	a graph which depicts the percentages of exam questions assigned to major work activities
Appendix F – Task Profile Chart	a chart which outlines the major work activities, tasks and sub-tasks of this occupational standard

OCCUPATIONAL STANDARD

Safe working procedures and conditions, accident prevention and the preservation of health are of primary importance to industry in Manitoba. These responsibilities are shared and require the joint efforts of government, employers and employees. It is imperative that all parties are aware of circumstances and conditions that may lead to injury or harm. Safe learning experiences and work environments can be created by controlling the variables and behaviours that may contribute to accidents or injury.

Safety-conscious attitudes and work practices contribute to a healthy, safe and accident-free work environment. It is imperative to apply and be familiar with workplace health and safety legislation and regulations including Workplace Hazardous Materials Information System (WHMIS) and Safety Data Sheet (SDS). Skin Care Technicians are responsible for ensuring the safety of themselves and others in the practice of infection control and maintaining a safe work environment. They must follow business protocols and jurisdictional regulations. It is critical that Skin Care Technicians be constantly aware of their surroundings and the hazards they may encounter.

Safety education is an integral part of training. As safety is an imperative part of all trades, it is assumed and therefore it is not included as a qualifier of any activities. However, the technical safety tasks and sub-tasks specific to the trade are included in this occupational standard.

SCOPE OF THE SKIN CARE TECHNICIAN TRADE

Skin Care Technicians provide a service to individuals through their professional knowledge and expertise in the services of skin care. The scope of Skin Care Technician includes work involved with skin and body care, and hair removal and enhancements.

A Skin Care Technician performs the following tasks:

- Maintains a safe workplace environment
- Performs infection control
- Completes client information
- Performs reception duties
- Performs spa management functions
- Performs consultation and obtains client consent
- Provides post-treatment care
- Uses communication and mentoring techniques
- Performs body treatments
- Performs skin treatments
- Performs hair removal
- Performs eyelash/eyebrow tints, lifts, perms, extensions and basic makeup application

OCCUPATIONAL OBSERVATIONS

The demand for esthetic services has changed significantly over the past decade. Recent trends in the industry have led to a more diversified trade for Skin Care Technicians. Increased knowledge is required because of the wide range of products available for specific applications. New products have led to new and revised techniques. This trend has altered the role and skill requirements of Skin Care Technicians.

There is a need for thorough pre-service and post-service consultations between the Skin Care Technician and the client. Skin Care Technicians are expected to retail products for at-home maintenance programs, further expanding the marketing, product knowledge and skills required in the trade.

Skin Care Technicians are required to follow current health and safety standards and protocols.
