Robert Laurenson, from the parish of Nesting and Lunnasting in the county of Shetland in Scotland, signed a contract with the Hudson's Bay Company on 9 February, 1864 to act as Labourer for 5 years at 25 pounds sterling per annum. In 1865 he was posted to the Lac la Pluie District where he remained throughout his service with the Company. He served at Lac du Bonnet in 1868. The following year he was appointed post master at Eagle Nest, and in 1870, he filled that capacity at Trout Lake. He acted as post master at Rat Portage from 1874 until 1877, when he apparently left the employ of the Company.
