1822, 27 July Letter from George Simpson, York Factory, to Allan McDonell:
Supposes that Swan River will be McDonell's headquarters with Innis as Accountant later states:

D.4/1 pp. 128, 129

"George Innis I understand is a trifling extravagant inconsiderate man, not sufficiently correct as an Accountant nor steady for the charge of a Post; he has been raised from the ranks thro' favor without any particular merit, is between 80 and 90 in debt and this Season sent an order down for goods to the amount of 20, through which I have struck my pen; any person therefore who is so careless of his own means cannot be supposed to deal economically with those of his Employers, under these circumstances it may be well to bring him out next year to be disposed of as the Council think proper, but in the meantime it will be proper that he gets no more out of the Store than is absolutely required for his Winter use."
