Hudson’s Bay Company

His contract was transferred to the Hudson’s Bay Company at its union with the North West Company in 1821 but he was a ‘freeman’ [his contract had expired] by 1822 and he does not seem to have been engaged by the HBC after that.

North West Company records locate him as a ‘milieu’ [middle position in canoe] at Fort George [Astoria] for the winter of 1813/1814.

There was a La Gasse at the Flathead post in 1813. This may have been André Lagasse.

By 1821 he had become a ‘boute’ [steersman or bowsman].

The name also appears as Lagace, Lagacé, Lagacie, Le Gosse, La Gassi.

He is probably the Charles Lagacé who was with David Thompson, 1800-1801, 1808-10, 1811. (Coues, Elliott, ed., New Light On The Early History of the Greater Northwest: The Manuscript Journals of Alexander Henry... and of David Thompson, 1799-1814 (New York, 1897), Vol. I, p. 51.)
