

There are times when circumstances create great opportunity and this is one of those times. As Manitoba continues to hold steady in the global economy, housing provides solutions and

4. Low-Income Households Engaged in Training and Achieving Success in Gaining and Maintaining Employment

A steady job or labour force attachment is a proven path out of poverty. Quality, affordable housing provides stability so people can improve their skills and social connections. This increases their chances of success in the labour force. Social housing can provide the base for people actively seeking better lives.

5. Seniors

Manitoba has a rapidly aging population; therefore, there is increased demand for seniors' housing with needed supports.

Seniors will place a much greater emphasis on their housing needs. Seniors will place a much greater emphasis on their housing needs.

Manitoba Housing plays a vital role in working with communities to promote well-being

