

QUICK. WHAT'S YOUR IMAGE OF A MINER?

From economists to welders to engineers, mining jobs are just as diverse as the minerals and metals we mine. More than 375,000 people work directly in Canada's mining and mineral processing industries, and many more work indirectly in mining. Mining is also proportionally the largest private sector employer of Aboriginal people in Canada.

MINING.CA

A message from the Mining Association of Canada.