NOTE

The snowmobile trails and several oxbow lakes in Spruce Woods Provincial Park have been named in honour of landowners who farmed this area before the park was created in 1960. The pioneers and farmers that settled here are an important part of the cultural heritage of Spruce Woods.

Snowmobilers should excercise caution at the river crossing during late fall and late winter when ice conditions may be unsafe. Please observe signs on the condition of the river crossing.

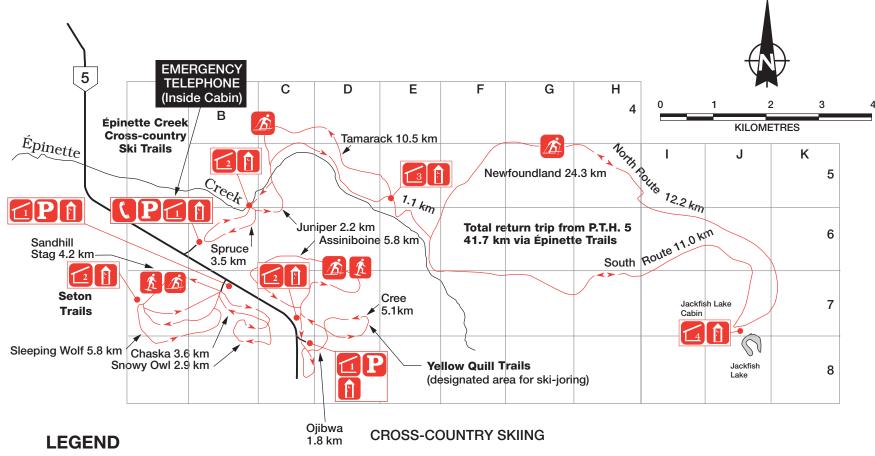

All snowmobile trails in Spruce Woods Provincial Park are designated SnoFund Trails. Please ensure each snowmobile has a valid SnoPass. All snowmobile trails are one way travel only.
